Troubles of the Mraček's family are seen like paranormal phenomenon. They live in the suburb of the village Strašice in Rokysany region. Switch covers, towels have been burning and bulbs have been cracking.

ČEZ (Czech Power Facility) has been measuring this area for 2 months and claims that there is no fault on their side. Even the Army puts their hands off this problem, even though they run Military area Brdy nearby.

Will the village offer alternative accommodation to the family?

Of course it will. The village owns about 400 flats and the Mraček's family will get one in preference. They can keep the flat as long as they need it. As soon as the problem is solved.

Evidences of eye witnesses about burning switches and cracking bulbs

Burning plugs, switches were seen by employees of Zajiček Elektro firm, who were looking for the problem in wiring. They were working on it the first fortnight since the phenomenon has begun.

J. Z.: "I have seen a blowing of a plug in the bathroom twice even if the power was off. My colleagues M. H. a B. R. Have even seen burning switch. That one we took to the firm as a curiosity. The inner side of the switch was working but the outer part was burned.

Cracking glass on lightbulbs had started as soon as searching for the wource of the problem was handed over to specialists from ČEZ. This was seen by some witnesses.

M. Z., technician of ČEZ Distribution network:

"We were at home, when the power was off, and suddenly the bulbs strated cracking. The glass was literally flying"

Opinions of other people

According to the fact that the house is only about 8km from the Military area, so it might be caused by microwaves of radar or something like that.

I think that they pretend to have these troubles, they just want to attract publicity or on the other hand they want to distract the attention because they do something bad.

Well, I just think that there is a poltergeist even though it is very unscientific

There are ghosts :o) – but it is a very good name for a place where the house is.(Strašice = Hauntedtown) . Isn't that house built on a cementary? I am really curious about the result and reason why these things are happenin there
